DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims include improper Markush group formatting in that the format should be "the group consisting of: a, b, c and d" instead of " a, b, c, or d" as currently written. Claim 2 is vague as to whether the injecting is done by the cardiosaver to the patient or by and external person/the patient, to the cardiosaver.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Art Unit: 3762

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by, or alternatively under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Fischell et al, US 6,112,116. Although silent as to the pre-implantation requirements, it is inherent that a physician would look at several, if not all, of the factors claimed prior to determining patient need, and if not inherent it would have been obvious to those in the art at the time of the invention to have looked at any patient history considerations necessary prior to performing an invasive implant surgical technique for diagnosis and/or therapy.

Claims 1-4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Fischell et al, US 6,272,379.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by, or alternatively under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over, Natarajan et al., US 6,501,983. Although silent as to the pre-implantation requirements, it is inherent that a physician would look at several, if not all, of the factors claimed prior to determining patient need, and if not inherent it would have been obvious to those in the art at the time of the invention to have looked at any patient history considerations necessary prior to performing an invasive implant surgical technique for diagnosis and/or therapy. As to claim 2, the drug pump embodiments of Natarajan inject medication to the patient which is inherently through a drug port.

Art Unit: 3762

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Natarajan et al., US 6,501,983 or Fischell et al, US 6,112,116 in view of Godfrey, US 3,914,410. Using blood glucose as condition for determining heart attack risk is notorious in the art, e.g. "it is also well-known among medical practitioners that individuals who suffer from diabetes mellitus experience an extremely high rate of cardiovascular disease and very frequently die of heart attack" as noted by Godfrey in 1975, merely adding this as a pre-implant condition would have amounted to an obvious choice in diagnostic indicators for patient applicability.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4 and 6 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-41 of U.S. Patent No. 6,272,379, and Claims 1-4 are unpatentable over claims 1-50 of U.S. Patent No. 6,112,116. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current claims are either an obvious broadening of the scope of the patented claims, or an obvious variant thereof.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
